

MISS MILDRED BROWN NORTH
Of Providence, R. I., who is to marry
Assistant Paymaster Edward Randolph Eberle, U. S. N.

MRS. C. M. DOWELL

MISS JOUETT ADAIR FALL.

MISS RUTH DUFFY.

WHILE officials held here by stress of great affairs are preening their feathers for flight to less serious environments and a few weeks of rest and play, other folks of the official and unofficial set come sauntering back to the every-day existence, and arrivals and departures will occur in the social calendar with the regularity of a railroad time-table—when there is no strike.

The President and Mrs. Wilson, who have led a varied existence in the past two days, will feel at all strange in their new surroundings at Shadow Lawn when they finally settle there for a vacation, for Miss Margaret Wilson, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones and the Misses Smith are all there, creating a domestic atmosphere. Sea breezes, fine drives, beautiful views and a spacious house and gardens will all contribute to the pleasure of rest days, and the secret service men surrounding them and the occasional click of a typewriter will be the only things to remind them of strenuous days in the White House.

But the present chief executive is not the only President who has been held in Washington through the hottest days of summer while stirring episodes in history were being enacted. Abraham Lincoln, whose humble birthplace, at Hodgenville, on Nolan creek, Ky., Mr. Wilson will accept tomorrow in the name of the nation, spent some midsummer days in the White House and in the simple cottage at the Soldiers' Home during the momentous period of the civil war. Then, just for the sake of contrast, there are some quite lively stories told of Presidents of the past who celebrated July 4 in the capital.

The "little season" this year will be late and short, and full of lively social incidents. Weddings, debut parties, unusually large house parties and other events will center about Thanksgiving time, and until then there is the delightful suburban life in home and club to relieve the sluggish pulse of society.

Few of the diplomats will return from their summer embassies before October, and many will linger on still later in the season. The Russian ambassador and Mme. Bakhmeteff have already made known their intention to remain at Newport until October 1, keeping members of the embassy staff with them. The Spanish ambassador and Senora de Riano are never the first members of the corps to return, and it is likely that they, too, will remain at Newport, with, of course, others of the corps to emulate them. This will give to resorts wherever the diplomatic assemblage an unusually long and brilliant season.

The British ambassador's interrupted vacation will take on a more settled state from now on, and he and Lady Spring Rice, who dearly love the Society Folk Afar.

Maj. Frederick W. Sladen, U. S. A., recently detailed to duty at Tientsin, China, has leased one of the charming houses there with spacious grounds, and with Mrs. Sladen has already instituted a series of entertainments. On the occasion of their daughter Betsy's birthday Tientsin was entertained at a potato party, at which prizes were awarded for the child who should make the most presentable looking doll and the least attractive one from the potatoes given out for this contest.

The visit of United States Senator Miles Polindexter to the navy yard at Seattle, Wash., Saturday, August 19, caused a ripple of pleasurable excitement along military lines. The heads of all departments were on pier No. 4 in service dress to meet the senator on arrival, a special tug bringing him from Seattle. Entertained by the commandant, Capt. R. E. Coontz, and Mrs. Coontz during his stay at the yard, he was guest of honor at an elaborate luncheon Saturday, where, around a table beautifully decorated with summer flowers and foliage, covers were placed for Medical Director A. R. Wentworth and Mrs. Wentworth, Col. C. M. Perkins and Mrs. Perkins, Mr. C. E. Thomas and Mrs. Thomas, Mr. S. Migliavacca and Mrs. Migliavacca, the honor guest and hostess. The same day Senator Polindexter, the commandant, Capt. R. E. Coontz, and Mrs. Coontz were entertained at a beautifully appointed dinner with Mr. S. Migliavacca, president of the Citizens' Bank, in Bremerton, and Mrs. Migliavacca as hosts.

Maj. Gen. J. Franklin Bell, former chief of staff, U. S. A., and stationed at Fort Myer, and Mrs. Bell gave a dinner Wednesday evening at Fort Mason, California, in honor of Capt. and Mrs. Charles H. Bridges, U. S. A., who are expecting to be ordered to another station within a short time.

The guests at the dinner included Capt. and Mrs. Bridges, Maj. and Mrs. E. M. Humphrey, Mesdames E. Pittman, H. Hazen, J. J. Moore, Elizabeth Pratt, George C. Marshall, Miss Mary Erskine, Grace Buford and Capt. Morris E. Locke. Miss Buford is a niece of Mrs. Bell.

Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Bell also gave a dinner last Sunday evening in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Cameron of Waco, Ariz. Among the guests were Capt. Morris E. Locke and Miss Mary Erskine.

A Masque Ball.

Miss Virginia McCarthy entertained at a masque ball Thursday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William S. McCarthy, on Jefferson boulevard, Brookwood Heights. The house was elaborately decorated with flowers and laurel. During the evening an elimination contest was held, the prizes being won by Miss Ruth Coblenz and Mr. Leslie Bopst.

Favors consisting of butterflies, flowers and fans were presented to the guests. A pleasing feature of the evening was a moonlight dance, during which the guests danced by the light of an artificial moon.

Those present were: Miss McCarthy, Polly; Miss Evelyn Manta, Martha Washington; Miss Naomi Coblenz, Pierrette; Miss Dorothy Seelky, Princess Fatima; Miss Sarah Given, a French chef; Miss Gertrude Fitzsimmons, a belle of 1861; Miss Abbie McCordell, Spanish girl; Miss Margaret Nieldhardt, gypsy; Miss Mathilde Young, a bride; Miss Julia Worthington, Gelsia girl; Miss Harriet Manta, Polly; Miss Charlotte Kolb, Night; Miss Dorothy Worthington, Yama Yama girl; Miss Ruth Coblenz, Turkish lady; Miss Gail Wade, Dolly Varden; Miss Inez Willard, Grecian costume; Miss Beatrice Trail, Watteau costume; Miss Kathryn Cook, Yama Yama girl; Miss Esther Coblenz, Italian dancer; Miss Pauline Staub, belle of 1850; Miss Daphne Kenner, Quaker; Miss Lucille Seelky, gypsy; Miss Marion McCarthy, fairy; Misses Leslie Bopst, 1917 girl; Meredith Staub, college graduate; James Harris, sailor; Harold Kemp, Roman gladiator; Martin Rohrbach, sailor; J. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Reilly entertained about fifty guests at a surprise party Saturday evening, August 26, at their home at College Park, Md., in honor of the birthday anniversary of the former's mother, Mrs. Alice M. Reilly.

The lawn and porch were hung with Chinese lanterns and a variety of flowers were used in the decoration of the house.

Dancing and games were enjoyed during the evening, and later refreshments were served.

The guests present included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raymond Hardy, Rev. Father Gavin, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed only by a small company of relatives and intimate friends.

Mrs. Ralph Daughton of Norfolk, Va., sister of the bride, sang a solo during the ceremony.

The couple were unattended and they left immediately after for their wedding trip.

The bride wore a traveling costume of dark blue serge, embroidered in steel, with a coat of gold velvet. She wore a black beaver picture hat and a corsage bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

On their return to the city Mr. and Mrs. Hardy will be at home at the Earlington.

Miss Dorothy Bryant Eynon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William John Eynon, entertained a number of guests at a birthday luncheon Friday, September 1, at the Columbia Country Club. Following the luncheon, the afternoon was spent in golf, tennis and in launching a toy motor boat built by Masters Lee Edward Eynon and Carl Claudy.

Notes of Interest.

Ex-Gov. Charles E. Magoon, formerly provisional governor in Cuba and now in the Philippines, has returned to Washington to his apartment at the Marlborough, after spending some weeks at the Hotel Traymore, Atlantic City.

Mrs. Gardner Bell, who has been spending the season at Jamestown, R. I., passed through Washington on Friday on her way to the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, where she will be joined by Mrs. Christian of Richmond and others, to remain over Labor day.

Miss Julia Lindsey left the city on Thursday for Craig Hall, Atlantic City, where she will spend September.

Mrs. Henry Daingerfield has returned from spending the summer with Mrs. Key at Statesville, North Carolina, and is settled at the Marlborough for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Corcoran Thom have returned to their cottage at Deer Park, Md., after a visit to Fenton, Mass. They will remain at Deer Park throughout September.

Mrs. Delos Blodgett and family are now occupying their cottage at Beverly Farms, Mass., where they will remain for some weeks.

Official Social Notes.

The Postmaster General is spending the week end at Allenhurst, N. J., with Mrs. Burleson, who has taken a cottage there for the autumn. They were at Shadow Lawn together yesterday. The Misses Burleson, who are still in the far west, will visit their sister in Texas before returning east, and will return here in time for Miss Sydney Burleson to enter George Washington University, where she is a senior.

Mr. Sato, appointed ambassador to this country to succeed Viscount Chinda, will sail for this country September 14, and is expected to arrive in Washington by October 1.

The Hon. Mrs. Murrough O'Brien, wife of the military attaché of the British embassy, and Mrs. Colville Barclay, wife of the British counselor, who are at Newport, were among the patronesses for subscription dance given at that resort last week for the benefit of the Prince of Wales national relief fund and Queen Mary's Needle Work Guild.

Mr. Barclay and Lieut. Col. O'Brien have been unable to leave the embassy here for any length of time, but have joined their families at Newport for week-end visits whenever possible.

Mrs. Barclay and Mrs. O'Brien will remain at Newport for several weeks yet.

Phya Prabha Karavongse, minister of Siam, and Lady Prabha Karavongse and Prince Lothia of Siam were among Mrs. John Hays Hammond's guests at her head-dress ball Friday night, motoring from Harding cottage, Bass Rocks, Gloucester, Mass., to Magnolia, for the event.

Dr. Paul Ritter, minister of Switzerland, and Mme. Ritter, who are at Lake Placid, will return to Washington in about two weeks.

Mr. William Walker Smith, who has been acting chief of the division of western European affairs of the department of State for the past two years, has been detailed as secretary of the legation at Copenhagen, Denmark, and with Mrs. Smith will sail for his new post September 16.

In Congressional Circles.

This week will probably mark the breaking up of congressional society, the many women who have remained with their husbands during the summer session either leaving with them for their widely scattered homes or for a few weeks' rest at eastern resorts.

Small card parties, dinner parties, luncheons under the trees in Rock Creek Park, swimming parties and other simple forms of amusement have engaged them here, and with their departure the long line of electric and automobiles rolling up to the Capitol each morning, Senators and Representatives taking life comfortably with their wives as chauffeurs, will be greatly missed.

The Speaker and Mrs. Champ Clark and Mr. Bennett C. Clark are planning to leave for their home in Bowling Green, Mo., at the end of the congressional session.

Mrs. James M. Thomson of New Orleans, who was to have come north for a visit to her parents, has changed her plans and soon after their arrival at Bowling Green will visit them there.

Miss Frances Graham of Philadelphia arrived yesterday to spend the week end with Senator and Mrs. Allen Home, in their apartment at the Highlands.

Mrs. James R. Mann, wife of the minority leader in the House, left Washington yesterday afternoon for a series of visits in the west. She will be the guest of Mrs. Ira Copley at Aurora, Ill., for some time, and will then visit Mrs. Frank O. Lowden at Oregon, Ill. A number of other visits are on Mrs. Mann's schedule before she returns to Washington for the opening of Congress in December.

Fourteenth Annual September Sale of Pianos and Player-Pianos

THIS annual September Sale of Pianos and Player-Pianos starts tomorrow. Your holiday gives you a splendid opportunity to be among the first comers, as our store will remain open until 1 p.m. Labor day.

You will be amazed at the wonderful reductions we have made on traded-in instruments of every well known make, on pianos and player-pianos that show only slight signs of wear or use, and on many new instruments, some of which are in discontinued case styles. The prices are the lowest we have ever quoted.

It will be a long time before you have the opportunity for such immense savings. Materials have advanced—the cost of labor has gone up. Manufacturers advise us that they must increase their prices if the same quality is to be maintained in the instruments. We strongly urge you to buy now—it means a positive, definite saving—and besides the first big saving you may save a great deal more on

Our Profit-Sharing Plan

We give you an extra credit of 50 cents on every dollar you pay, at the time you make your purchase, up to $50. Pay $5 and we credit you $7.50; pay $10 and we credit you $15. The more you "invest" the more you earn. Then, when you have your balance divided by 40 to get your regular monthly payments, you can take advantage of the extra inducements offered if you shorten the time.
